

Three years I'll be back for you
I know it's too much time
My dear, it's the best I can do
I promise you'll be just fine
You'll be just fine

Tell me you'll be waitin' at the end
Try to keep it all together when you say

"Do you see yourself with me?
It's not fair to say that everything is alright
When you're with me you're always runnin' away
This better be the last time
Do you see straight through me?
Am I just a dream to get you through the night?
When you're with me you're always runnin' away
This better be the last time."

You know I can't take the pain from you
But you're tuggin' on my line
Taking blame is all I can do
I promise you'll be just fine

Tell me you'll be waitin' at the end
Try to keep it all together when you say

"Do you see yourself with me?
It's not fair to say that everything is alright
When you're with me you're always runnin' away
This better be the last time
Do you see straight through me?
Am I just a dream to get you through the night?
When you're with me you're always runnin' away
This better be the last time

Save me. Erase me
Save me. Erase me

Do you see yourself with me?
It's not fair to say that everything is alright
When you're with me you're always runnin' away

Do you see yourself with me?
It's not fair to say that everything is alright
When you're with me you're always runnin' away
This better be the last time
Do you see straight through me?
Am I just a dream to get you through the night?
When you're with me you're always runnin' away
This better be the last time."
