

Dlora Yelps

Cosmo Sheldrake

I'm born once more
Watered by the dewy dawns
And ankle deep in coupled thought

One day when the world was big and strange
We all went around in gloves
We watched as the weeks turned into months
And push had become a shove

I'm born once more
Watered by the dewy dawns
And ankle deep in coupled thought

One day when the night had come too soon
And hours were too few
We watched as the sky she slowly bruised
To pinky purple blues

I'm born once more
Watered by the dewy dawns
And ankle deep in coupled thought

I'm born once more
Watered by the dewy dawns
And ankle deep in coupled thought
