Babies

Counting Crows

After you're gone, babies
ride the soft machine threading the warm children down the space between into a slow heaven hanging by a thread leaving the still living for the walking dead
It took so long
to find my way out of here out of the warm night, to the hard light shivering with fear
After you're gone, babies
crawling on the world touching the souls of all the lonely carefree boys and girls daddy needs you
mamma feeds you
and they come until they go but if I'm lonely, I'm the only one who knows It took so long
shivering with fear
after the slow lonely waiting I'm all alone, alone and free
If you see me, please believe me I wannna be
After you're gone, babies
screaming at the rain hanging a slow heaven
in the wind again
She's been waiting 270 days
sick of waiting
when you see me
please believe me
I'm the only one who cares at all

After the slow lonely heaven I'm all alone, alone and free
if you see me
I wanna be After you're gone...
