

Let There Be Light

Courtney Jaye

I can hear the Earth, she's breathin' heavy
Shakin' underneath my feet
Wearing out her nerves, she breaks the levee
Comin' for her enemy
Well, it's easy to ignore 'til it isn't
Just as there is dark at night
So let there be, let there be
Let there be light

Love, it turns to war, we fight each other
Forgetting we began the same
Crying through the blindness, fear, and madness
It's amazing anything remains
We are lookin' for a leader in the empty
Spaces where our hearts collide
So let there be, let there be
Let there be light

I've been fallin' down since I've been walkin'
Hungry with pain and dreams
Starless and lost, a voice so empty
It's hard to believe
Well, now, I don't really know what God was thinkin'
I don't know if She hears me cry
So let there be, let there be
Let there be light

Oh, let there be, let there be
Let there be light
Oh, let there be, let there be
Oh, let there be light
