

phases

Cousin Stizz

Everybody's going through their phases
Running through their own little mazes
I don't really mind being aimless
I don't have a plan but I'll fake it

You said you might pick up and move
You're trying to go meet someone new
You might even go back to school
What are you trying to prove?
None of it makes you feel new
None of that stuff is the truth
Maybe the problem is you?
Ain't you been watching the news?
Everyone says that we're doomed
Shit, I might quit singing in tune

Everybody's going through their phases
Running through their own little mazes
I don't really mind being aimless
I don't have a plan but I'll fake it

Going through their phases
Going through their phases

You different than I
I see bag and go get it, don't ask why
Check, The Flash be running through my mind
I'm in a rush because we're running out of time
Facing backwards your whole life
Watch too many legends lost in their prime
That's why we sip Henny and we walk with the 9
That's how we stack plenty and go hard for the shine
Yea really. As the world turn it get colder in the city
Figure I'm stronger for shit that didn't kill me
Way back when when a hoe just wouldn't feel me
Now she fight to get in near me shit be getting tricky
Going through phases with paper I love it
And blowing it at the same moment
They fucked up and act like they know me
And I can't let anyone hold me

Everybody's going through their phases
Running through their own little mazes
I don't really mind being aimless
I don't have a plan but I'll fake it

Going through their phases
Going through their phases
