

Dust

Craig Armstrong

without love
can i go now?
without you
i had to be without love

i'm breathing in the water i'm breathing everything
i'm losing everything

so be still now

i'm breathing in the cold air i've broken everything you pass the cutlery i watch as you turn away you said you met somebody on the train who knew me from the old days i touch your mouth, i touch your skin i am without i am within you turned me into dust

what am i supposed to do without you my love?
and i stay now

i'm dust in the end
i didn't even care

you leave your clothes upon the floor just like a hundred times before you drove the kids off att the school i drive them home again to you
what am i supposed to do without love?

at least i know i found love
