

Dominoes

Craig David

Told you to stand up
Told you to face up
And you believe
'Cause it's easy to man up
Being the man, you're supposed to be
Under the surface
You're getting tired of playing the role
And you wish it was different
But it's all you know
I know that letting go, it don't come easily
But are you ready to close your eyes
And lean back into me

'Cause together we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes
Together we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes
When you're feeling like you can't hide
How you feeling on the inside
Together we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes

Told me you're vulnerable, that you're in trouble and I believe
You know that I got you
'Cause I fell before you and someone caught me
Feels like it's totally worth it
Spending a lifetime tryna be perfect
But when you pull back the curtain
It's so obvious to see that you're hurting

You and me together, we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes
Together we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes
When you're feeling like you can't hide
How you feeling on the inside
Together we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes

I know that letting go, it don't come easily
But are you ready to close your eyes?
And lean back into me
Standing so close to you
We play so carefully
But when we're falling together
We fall so beautifully

'Cause together we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes
'Cause we falling like
Falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes
When you're feeling like you can't hide
How you feeling on the inside
Together we're falling, falling, falling, falling like dominoes
Falling, falling, falling, falling dominoes
