

God's Problems

Craig Morgan

I've been bitter, been a quitter, been a doubter
A light was shining on me in my darkest hour
Maybe I should try to pray a little louder
And not give the devil his way
Been a leaver, been a flier, been a faller
Turned away when I could stand a little taller
Put a little more money in the bottle
Than I ever thought to put in the plate

I'll never be perfect
But I'm doing the best I can
I'm gonna keep working
On being a better man
I can't undo the things I've done
They led me to who I've become
I don't wanna be just another one
Of God's problems

I've been a hater, been a lover, been a fighter
One foot in the grave and another in the fire
If I said I got it figured out, then I'm a liar
But I'm trying, yeah, I'm trying

I'll never be perfect
But I'm doing the best I can
I'm gonna keep working
On being a better man
I can't undo the things I've done
They led me to who I've become
I don't wanna be just another one
Of God's problems

God's problems

I'm holding it together, holding it together
But I can do better, I can do better
I'm holding it together, holding it together
But I can do better

I'll never be perfect
But I'm doing the best I can (The best I can)
I'm gonna keep working
On being a better man (I wanna be a better man)
I can't undo the things I've done
They led me to what I'll become
I don't wanna be just another one
Of God's problems
