

Delicate

Crash Adams

Delicate
Yeah, I'm delicate
Delicate
You know, you know, you know I'm delicate

Mom is gone
Dad is always working overtime
Wishing it won't last long
Just like the last song
He's tired of feeling undermined

You teach yourself
Cause no one to tell you to never beat yourself
You know you need yourself
But you're all alone
So you stay up waiting for someone else

And then she walked right by on the other night
Just as you saw bright lights from the other side
She stopped outside with those pretty brown eyes
I gotta get to know you, there's just so much I could show ya

But I'm delicate
Tell me you never hurt someone like me
Cause I'm delicate
Why would you ever hurt someone like me
Cause I'm delicate
Yeah, I'm delicate
Delicate
You know, you know, you know I'm delicate

She fell in love
Now she's well into the summertime
Wishing it could last long
But just like the last song
He's moving to the city life

And now she's staying up
There's no one to tell her she'll never break apart
She blames herself cause she's got no other help
And he was always gonna break her heart

And then she walked right by on the other night
Just as you saw bright lights from the other side
She stopped outside with those pretty brown eyes
I gotta get to know you, there's just so much I could show ya

But I'm delicate
Tell me you never hurt someone like me
Cause I'm delicate
Why would you ever hurt someone like me
Cause I'm delicate
Yeah, I'm delicate
Delicate
You know, you know, you know I'm delicate

Listen, what if I'm different

What if I'm, I'm paralyzed and it's only cause I never meant to hurt somebody,
I'm delicate honey
I gotta get to know you, there's just so much I could show ya

But I'm delicate
Tell me you never hurt someone like me
Cause I'm delicate
Why would you ever hurt someone like me
Cause I'm delicate
Yeah, I'm delicate
Delicate
You know, you know, you know I'm delicate