

All Along

Crash Kings

All along I thought I knew you
But it didn't feel quite right

Anybody in the world could see
It wasn't meant to be

Fake a smile it only guarantees
That nobody knows the difference

And I'll just keep on going down like this
If I can't have you

So wake up
Your life is everywhere
For everyone

Stand up
Teach all your people well
Cause they can't see
What's right

All along I thought I knew you
But it didn't feel quite right

Anybody in the world could see
It wasn't meant to be

Call me baby
Call me sweet
Just call me anything you want

If I could see right through it
Maybe this would be so easy

So wake up
Your life is everywhere
For everyone

To know

All along I thought I knew you
But it didn't feel quite right

Anybody in the world could see
It wasn't meant to be

Fake a smile it only guarantees
That nobody knows the difference

And even when your little world breaks
You don't stop
For your soul

And even though there's nothing at stake
You don't drop
Just roll along, whoa

All along I thought I knew you
But it didn't feel quite right

And anybody in the world could see
It wasn't meant to be

Fake a smile it only guarantees
That nobody knows the difference

And I'll just keep going down like this
If I can't have you
