

All Because of You

Crash The System

You take a piece
Of every heart
You crush
Into the ground
Heartaches are calling
Your name

There are a million reasons to
Leave you and tear you apart
But every move
That we're making
Takes us right to the start

You found me, you guide me
There ain't no way around it
And it's all because of you
All because of you

You came along to sooth my pain
But that was all in vain
Still my heartbeat
Is calling your name

There were a million reasons
To leave you and tear you apart

Our love would
Conquer eternity
In a flash of light it was gone
But you'll always be here...

Our love would
Conquer eternity
In a flash of light it was gone
But you'll always be here...
