Full Circle

Got your freedom now boy Who do you serve Took for granted what you, should have preserved No time left, no time left, to make amends Keep burning bridges while you're buying your new friends A day of reflection hits, you're a shell, skin and bones, counting co sts Is it worth your soul A day of reflection hits

It's funny how times can change, rearrange and distance makes The pain fade away So important then, doesn't matter now Both feet on the ground Come full circle, yeah, come full circle

No access granted now boy, you've been denied Jump a fence to see what's on the other side Are you wanted, are you wanted The question is, could second chances mean another impression A day of reflection hits, your you're a shell, skin and bones, counti ng costs Is it worth your soul A day of reflection hits

It's funny how times can change, rearrange, and distance makes

The pain fade away So important then, doesn't matter now Both feet on the ground Come full circle, we've come full circle

I got one foot stuck in heaven, yeah One boot stuck in hell I looked at God, he winked at me I made this mess myself Don't be surprised and don't deny Hear every word I say Close the door and don't look back or you will fade away

It's funny how times can change, rearrange and distance makes The pain fade away

It's funny how times can change, rearrange and distance makes The pain fade away So important then, doesn't matter now Both feet on the ground Come full circle, full circle, come full circle We have come, full circle Creed
