

Further Than Forever

Creeper

Further than forever, deeper than a dream
I was the night, you the terrifying light
And our kiss could end a life

The city was a poison in my veins
I crossed the line between a sinner and a saint
'Knock knocking' boots on heaven's floor
While a band of angels stood appalled
Get down on your knees and pray

Goddamn, god bless, go get undressed, you better count your rosary
Divine intervention won't save a soul like me

My armageddon girl could end your world with one look
She'll drain the blood and drag you from the light
In a city of devils
She's killing angels
Just to watch them die

I'm a devil doing good deeds instead
I'm Jesus in a strip club giving head
Baby, I'm always dying, never dead
Cry, cry, cry, my darling, till the tears run red
And stain the sheets upon your bed

Goddamn, god bless, go get undressed, you better count your rosary
Divine intervention won't save a soul like me

My armageddon girl could end your world with one look
She'll drain the blood and drag you from the light
In a city of devils
She's killing angels
Just to watch them die
To watch them die
To watch them die
To watch them die

"And at the edge of forever, I saw her
A phantom, a spectre in the snow
She took me by the hand and led me through the frost-bitten night
She spoke of communion in the depths of eternity, of evil and sin
Through the cathedral grounds, we walked over graves and moss-covered tombs
Under a sea of guilty-hung stars, she lay with me
And it was then when she took me
When she sunk herself inside me like a stone thrown into the abyss of an ocean
I saw the famous light, I saw agony and ecstasy as I lost myself
The headstones stood proud above us and witnessed my death and rebirth

Dragged down to hell, hell
Are you brave enough to dream?
Hell, hell
Are you brave enough to dream?

Dragged down to hell, hell
Are you brave enough to dream?
Dream 'bout bringing hell, hell

Are you brave enough to dream?

Come on take me to hell, hell
Are you brave enough to dream?
Hell, hell
Are you brave enough to dream?

(Dream of me again) hell, hell
Are you brave enough to dream?
(Dream of me again) hell, hell

My armageddon girl could end your world with one look
She'll drain the blood and drag you from the light
My armageddon girl could end your world with one look
She'll drain the blood and drag you from the light
In a city of devils
She's killing angels
Just to watch them die
Just to watch them die
Just to watch them die
