More Than Death

Creeper

You grow so tired of all the violence
Of all the scarlet nights un-slept
Does anyone ever love you more than death?
The darkness looming overhead

Some nights you're pining for the pine box
Some nights they burn like gasoline
I've been all the evils that man can be
But you saw a light in the dark of me

She lays beneath my grave, like a funeral wreath

Death fears us, we don't fear death
Don't you dare ever forget
From our first kiss to our last breath
With any heart that I have left
I will love you more than death
I will love you more than death
I will love you more than death

I played a teenage apparition
You played a Lorraine Warren type
And exorcised this haunted heart of mine
That this world keeps breaking all the time

No reflection in the mirror
No light behind the eyes
If I still had one, I would give my life
I want to die for real this time

She lays her grief on my lips like a funeral wreath

Death fears us, we don't fear death
Don't you dare ever forget
From our first kiss to our last breath
With any heart that I have left
I will love you more than death
I will love you more than death
I will love you more than death

I'll see you in hell, if I don't see you before
I know that our love is cursed and I can't find a cure
See you in hell, if I don't see you before
I know that our love is cursed and I can't find a cure

But I will love you more than death
