

Paradise

Creeper

Under a midnight moon
Under a sea of stars
When our lips collide
And we crash like cars
And I'll fall like thunder
To your feet
I've got a pistol baby
Under the passenger seat

I break into your house each week
To sit and watch you while you sleep
To watch the angels weep
To dive the six feet deep to find

Do you dream of me?
Do you dream of me?
No one survives the night
No one survives the night
In paradise
In paradise

In the early hours
As the candles die
By the liquor store
In the crimson light
And she tastes like ocean
And I fall like rain
Derail me baby
C'mon and crash this train

I break into your house each week
To sit and watch you while you sleep
To watch the angels weep
To dive the six feet deep to find

Do you dream of me?
Do you dream of me?
No one survives the night
No one survives the night
In paradise
In paradise

No one survives the night
No one survives the night

No one survives the night
No one survives the night
In paradise
In paradise
