

The world has fallen - no place for winners
No air to inhale - no movement to react
Cold ruins watching - over once proud buildings
The call of the battle fades away
The black smoke has vanished

No power to manifest - no nation left to dominate
No more sanctuary - everything in blood and ashes

It's time for a war - a war inside my head
It's time for memories - oblivion - oblivion
It's time for forgiveness - the hope for salvation
It's time for a new beginning - oblivion - oblivion

The world of today reborn - no place for deceivers
A rebirth without man - without any beast
What was once constructed - by common sense
Dust and decay carried by the wind
The last embers suffocate

No power to manifest - no nation left to dominate
No more sanctuary - everything in blood and ashes

It's time for a war - a war inside my head
It's time for memories - oblivion - oblivion
It's time for forgiveness - the hope for salvation
It's time for a new beginning - oblivion - oblivion

No power to manifest - no nation left to dominate
No more sanctuary - everything in blood and ashes

It's time for a war - a war inside my head
It's time for forgiveness - the hope for salvation

No power to manifest - no nation left to dominate
No more sanctuary - everything in blood and ashes
