

Until the Dawn

Crematory

Rain is falling, wind spreads the wetness
The day sacrifices itself for the night
Bodies fall silent, come to rest
Fall asleep, dreams manifest

Don't you see the light inside of you?
Fantasies and wishes awake until the dawn

Don't you feel the light around you
Don't you feel it... Don't you?

Opened wide to endless heights
You are my leading light, until the dawn
Flying high the end inside
Together we will shine, until the dawn

Minutes become hours, endless agony
But at some point even that is over
Outside again, freedom is calling
Light falls silent, rain is falling

Don't you see the light inside of you?
Fantasies and wishes awake until the dawn

Don't you feel the light around you?
Don't you feel it... Don't you?

Opened wide to endless heights
You are my leading light, until the dawn
Flying high the end inside
Together we will shine, until the dawn