

Momma's Right

Cris Cab

Momma walked so I could run
But she didn't mean run into trouble
She told me I should chase the sun
But I don't know why I always stumble
I do my duties as a son
But sometimes I overlook the duties of the man she wants to see
But I know that day will come
If I stay inside my heart and not at these streets

And when you hold me closely
Nothing compares
And all the things you told me
Have always been clear
Your baby boy is still growing
But I need you here
So pull me closer
So pull me closer

Momma told me keep my head on tight
So I won't see another sleepless night
There's one thing I learned about this life
Nine times out of ten my mom was right
Nine times out of ten my mom was right
Nine times out of ten my mom was right

I stay up late cause I'm not lightweight
These heavy drinks they hold me down
Momma said I'm not in the right place
Cause I can't keep my feet on the ground

And when you hold me closely
Nothing compares
And all the things you told me
Have always been clear
Your baby boy is still growing
But I need you here
So pull me closer
So pull me closer

Hey Momma
Nananananananana
Hey Momma
Nananananananana
Hey Momma
I know I act a fool but
I promise you I'm coming back to you
You
Hey Momma

Momma told me keep my head on tight
So I won't see another sleepless night
There's one thing I learned about this life
Nine times out of ten my mom was right
Nine times out of ten my mom was right
Nine times out of ten my mom was right

On my way

On my way
On my way
Momma
On my way
I'm running to you, Momma

Momma walked so I could run
But she didn't mean run into trouble
She always told me chase the sun
But this time I promise not to stumble
