

Self Help by Criteria

The sightless leading the blind

You confuse and scare the masses to get behind

Because the world's stern

But you chose to fight instead and not to learn

Who you kill don't change:

You killed

How hard is it to say, I make mistakes?

We cannot pretend to dance around the cover-up.

If this ain't no sin to say you never heard

Well then one lies into another

Who protects citizens from presidents?

Nations will try to remind us

Don't begin what you can't end

Somebody out there can fight us

But instead we close our eyes and go to

War, it don't work

It frustrates the cause, it's making it worse.

Peace, love, understanding

It's as simple as it sounds if you believe

Leaders will try to blind us

But open minds still see

Officials addicted to crisis

Detoxified with peace

They make war, it don't work

It frustrates the cause, it's making it worse
