

Let Me In

Crobot

See the door is closed, the curtains pulled, but I know you're home

I've been watching you, think I know you better than you do

Looking out your back door, you'll never know

Knocking on your front door, won't leave you all alone

Locking all your windows, won't keep me out

Why don't you invite me in?

Hide your face in the darkest place, I'll still see your shadow

Imaginations don't satisfy, I ache with the need to know

Looking out your back door, you'll never know

Knocking on your front door, won't leave you all alone

Locking all your windows, won't keep me out

Why don't you invite me in?

This is how it feels when fear rules all

This is how it feels when you lose control

Looking out your back door, you'll never know

Knocking on your front door, won't leave you all alone

Locking all your windows, won't keep me out

Why don't you invite me in?
