

Don't stop running and don't stop breathing.
Someone holds you back like a nightmare.
Every time I used to be stuck in vain.
A thousand needles like pouring rain.
Don't stop thinking, don't stop feeling, don't close your eyes.

This is the beginning, now it's waking up!

Eyes tell me what I see, I've never seen such a great divide.
It's coming close and I'm haunted.

Don't stop thinking, don't stop feeling.
Don't close your eyes.
I know this gate is open.
Tell me what it is, someone shows me.

I shouldn't have known, what you call this, a nightmare.
I've felt before.
Bite me then it's coming closer.
I can't refuse it.

"Now it's waking up, so you should stay".
I've waited for this conception.

If I can't turn back, I tied you to a chair.
Don't shut your eyes.
I wait for myself to be awake.

I feel you for the first time.
Don't set me free.
This is what you wanted to give me.
I'll be drowning.

I shouldn't have known, what you call this, a nightmare.
Bite me then it's coming closer.

I shouldn't have known, what you call this, a nightmare.
I've felt before.
Bite me then it's coming closer.
I can't refuse it.

This is who I am, and I see.
I shouldn't have known.
