

Dead Reflections

Crown Magnetar

Everyday is hell, everything's the same, when you're aimlessly stuck on this depressive plain Agony reaches inside of my soul, infecting me with its deafening hold
Nothing is good or the way it seems
My life's is a nightmare where I cannot dream

I feel it all slipping away
I feel it all draining out
Existing in a place with so much doubt
Life's not worth living when there's nothing to care about

Falling into the this labyrinth of hate
All the love that's in my life, deteriorates
Alone and broken on this merciless sphere
I close my eyes and erase everything I hear

Unheard feelings are the death of my soul
I'm pulled down again by its deafening hold
Through the trees I can see no light
I no longer in my body have the will to fight

Oh, unholy gifter of light
Please gaze up upon my dreadful demeanor
Insatiable lust for eternal depth
Darkness impales me with my final breath

Shroud of filth awaits my death
Darkness impales me with my final breath

I feel it all slipping away
I feel it all draining out
Existing in a place with so much doubt
Life's not worth living when there's nothing to care about

It always feels like there is no escape, when you live a life of hell in a dimension of pain

I let the hate rain down upon my vile crown
