

Only The Spine Remains

Crown Magnetar

Dry rotted memory
I woke up in the dark
Unable to breathe
Gasping in an empty world
What have I done to deserve this sentence
Unworldly hatred, you will serve your vengeance

End this world
End this life
No light is visible in my eyes
A last breath of ecstasy
The shadow is unfurled
End this world
End this life
Suspended in the emptiness
I have become what I detest

Infecting every being to grace this fire realm
A pledge of cowardice sculpted in all walls of earth
Below the dirt into pale dusk I fell
The ashen world I am born into hell
Neglectful lord why have you lead us here
The burning screams are reflected in my gaze of fear

Hunted down like prisoner of war
My vile essence has achieved unholy integration
A relic sewn with skin of thy unholy priest below
We are the slaves of suffering
Look at the ground as my body is uncovering
Sinful liars, we only live in pain
We live in pain, beneath the soil, only the spine remains

I woke up in the dark
And became what I detest
I woke up in the dark
Suspended in emptiness
Suspended in emptiness
