

Prismatic Tomb

Crown Magnetar

Deep in the darkness, I see your face forever
Embrace the hate succumb to all vices
Imploding in silence and absorb all the pain
The thought of white eyes, the cold the spitting blood
Forced to believe in nothing above

Embrace it and succumb to the depth
Embrace it, succumb to this organic death

The hands of deceitful God took me by the throat
Forcing my sacrifice my body was left afloat

Withering war every single day
The language of Christ infecting my dismay
Inhale thy breath and I begin to desecrate

Desecrate
Crush the skulls
Crush the skulls of the widows of the earth

Living a life of self-destruction
I hang my head as a sign of devotion
Exiled man though I wasn't even he
I wait alone at night for you to come back to me

Deep in the darkness, I see your face forever
Guide me through the dark of the night

Don't you ever leave me by myself
You said I would not be alone
Wading waist deep into the river
You said to me, let go

As if I'm feeling a different time, I've done the inception
Deep in the darkness, I see your face forever
