

A Call to Arms (Act I)

Crown the Empire

For my fallen stars
Banner men ready for your call to arms
And for my broken hearts
It's time to take back what we thought we'd lost

This is the resistance
It's a call to arms
The anthem for all those who don't belong
We're here to take our stand

This is the resistance
It's been far too long
That we've put all our faith in to the corrupt

It's time to start the end
