

Never Fall

Cruel Hand

I think I'm walking but I'm sinking
Every move I make is so wrong
Your helps not working, in fact it's worthless
What's taking me so long
To lave everything behind me
And choose my own path
Our yesterdays were better
But I can't look to the past
Yesterdays were better
But I can't look to the past

I know I have so far to go
I'm looking for answers that I'll never know
There's no way that I can ever stop
The ones who settle are the ones you've lost
Yesterdays were better
But I can't look to the past...

You gave me the options
You gave me the tools
But you're walking blind in line
Amongst this world of fools
I can't look to the past

I have stumbled in trying times
I found a compass in the dirt and I left it behind
My only map went up in flames
Because your dead end life was the direction it gave

I'm not ashamed of the path I've taken
If you think I'm lost you must be mistaken
Stumble but I never fall
Some say courage, you say gall
Some things were just not built to fall
My backs against the wall
