

Raining Outside

Cruel Santino

Higo
Oh yeah

I know it's raining outside
You can call me in the morning
I took a pill in the night
Two steps and then I'm yawning
I see that looking in your eyes
Deep down, I know you mourning
I took a pill up in the night
Two sips in the morning

Never need to call, I got your back
Never need to call, you got a friend like me
Never need to call, I got your back
Never need to call, you got a friend like me

When there's nobody left to call, I know you're feigning
When there's nobody left at all, goddammit it's a demon
When there's nobody left to call, I know you're feigning
When there's nobody left at all, goddammit it's a demon

Bad bitches know I'm speeding
She a bad bitch, I know she need it
Bad bitches know I'm speeding
She a bad bitch, I know she need it

"Okay but you know what I've been hearing? Her writing is bad Don't people know the difference between good and bad."
"She's cute, there's different standards for cute people."
"You mean, no standards"

When there's nobody left to call, I know you're feigning
When there's nobody left at all, you got a friend like me
When there's nobody left to call, I know you're feigning
When there's nobody left at all