

Daydreaming, I stay in the backseat
The slow beat rocks me to back to sleep, keeps me on automatic
Press my face up close against the glass I see the people
When they pass they move so automatic
You wake up when I go down
The radio reminds me I'm alive
We've been hearing it all night

Come on now, don't let this go
Don't let my love fade away
People come and people go
But I

Lazy day, I'm so hungry
You melt me like a candle and a flame
But something is pulling you away
We've been stuck out here so long
My phone rings and reminds me I'm alive
And I'm feeling kinda high

Come on now, don't let this go
Don't let my love fade away
People come and people go
Stay
