You said you'd never leave now your gone away forever.

Leaving me to barely breathe, telling me it's for the better.

I guess I should believe you now, you're walking out the door.

Chorus

There you go leaving me behind.

Let me know should you ever change your mind.

I guess it's good you're gone, I've been hearing all about you.

I thought our love was strong, but the lies you told were stronger.

I guess I should believe it now I want you 'round no more. Bridge

I'll forget about you, live without you that it seems.

I'll move on without you learn to doubt you, the one they alway s talk about, the way you always scream and shout, it's you.