

All the Kingsmen

Cryonic Temple

When the bird in black arrives, I can hear my comrades cry
The king has called us all to arms to defend against the blight
Hordes of undead beasts in march, twisted beyond thought
The call's been answered to us all, we will stand and we will fight

Stand, our time draws near
Death is nothing we fear

All the kingsmen are riding tonight
To defend, our honor we fight
All the kingsmen, we are kingsmen, together we fight
To defend our honor and pride

The moon is shining down on us, a cold and icy light
Darkened thoughts begin to rise, I can see it in their eyes
Against these hordes we stand alone, our back against the pride
Glory to the king we cry, our massive hordes collide

Stand out time draws near
Death is nothing we fear

All the kingsmen are riding tonight
To defend, our honor we fight
All the kingsmen, we are kingsmen, together we fight
To defend our honor and pride

The moon is shining down on us, a cold and icy light
Darkened thoughts begin to rise, I can see it in their eyes

Stand out time draws near
Death is nothing we fear

All the kingsmen are riding tonight
To defend, our honor we fight
All the kingsmen, we are kingsmen, together we fight
To defend our honor and pride
