

Until There's Nothing Left

Cryptopsy

The lines have been set
Now I sit back and wait
Eager for somebody
To come and take the bait

The net is wide
Spread across the web
I must confide
That it's the wait I dread

This illusion that I cast
Has been stewing
Your greed for pleasure is too vast
And will be your undoing
Finally I get a hit
Now this is when I get excited
My mouth then begins to drip
The fire in my loins ignited

The trap is set
The filthy one
Will be surprised
As I become
The only one

Lust has now trapped you here
I'm the one you were told to fear
My lies have you intertwined
Within this cage
And as you now can clearly see

```
(adsbygoogle = window.adsbygoogle || []).push({});
You're totally mine

There is only true pleasure
When one suffers
More than the other

Interlaced within your mind
Untruthfulness has you contained within my hive
My silky velvet words have you confined
Until there's absolutely nothing left
At all for me to gain
Once you finally realize
It is too late
I'll have already moved on

I cut the strings and watch you fall
I jeer as panic takes over
I giggle as you start to bawl
The final steps of this horrific
Hostile torturous acquisition

I skim through bare skinned images
Of you in weird poses
I marvel at how easily
I got you to spread open
