Intimate

Crystal Castles

Collecting hearts another love is another place to stay another face we close our eyes and feel our way a new fit you're Positive but they don't need to know another boy another girl another place to go

It feels like sleep it feels like being born return to soil return to frailer form