

Nobody's Angel

Crystal Gayle

She's longing for love to take her
She whispers in silence but no one hears
Well, is she lonely, I'd say she was
All she needed was someone to love
Nobody's angel

She sits by the mirror and combs her hair
Maybe she's waiting for love to find her there
No warm embrace, soft candlelight
Only in dreams can love be so right
Nobody's angel
She's nobody's angel tonight

Ooh, it's a sad thing
She can't understand
Why the whole world's just passing her by
She's nobody's angel tonight

She'll have no one to hold her
And no one to kiss her goodnight
No one to run to if she's right
No one to give her the sweet things in life
Nobody's angel

She's nobody's angel tonight
She's nobody's angel, nobody's angel
She's nobody's angel tonight
Nobody's angel tonight
