Curse

Crystal Lake

Our time is up, we're dehumanized
You took our hearts out, lobotomized
Are we so weak?
You set the bridge on fire
Too late, you've gone too far, dead-end
Checkmate, congrats, you won this game
But will it be the end of our nightmare?

I'm all alone

Burning my soul as I'm losing myself
All alone, on my own
Burning my soul as I'm losing myself
All alone, on my own

Life, is it a gift or curse?
Saw him taking another soul above the sky
They left a thousand of stories untold
Broken dreams make memories shine in gold
The harder we try, the deeper we fall
We'll burn away when the sun rises up

I'm all alone

Burning my soul as I'm losing myself
All alone, on my own
Burning my soul as I'm losing myself
All alone, on my own

We fail again and pray to live another day
And waste away the days they couldn't live
Again we pray to live another day
And waste away the days they couldn't live

Again we pray to live another day
And waste away the days they couldn't live

This road is paved with bricks of broken dreams
Stand tall, walk through this hell with me
Walk through this hell with me
Stand tall, walk through this hell with me
