

Innocence

Crystal Lake

A moment when the view stretched
I came to myself
Why am I here against my will
And then it's back

Wreck of the seized mind (The seized mind)
Gonna lead to blindness (Dissapearing)
Wreck of the seized mind
Gonna lead to blindness again

But crying lights
Push myself up by ink
My hands were numb
Forward

Obstructed fog was gone from my eyes
And gazed something far away
Passing time was about the old days
Now can regard like eternity
And the things that were conflict
Changed to nourishment
Pain changed to joy
I found a way

Even if you have fallen
It's alright to stand again and improve
Even if you have fallen
It's alright to stand again and improve
Again and improve

If all people in the world avoided me
I wouldn't change anything
Fix the helm and go slowly
Forward to something
Something

When I was near to it
Throw mud to me once more
When I was near to it
Throw mud once more

Innocence
My belief
Innocence
My friends
Innocence
My voyage
Innocence

Don't have to go in the crowd
Of people by yourself
And don't need to put a rope
Around your neck
