

Waves

Crystal Lake

Time

We are running out of time as we endure this pain to carry on
We'll carry on

Ocean waves growing stronger

Learning to walk on water

Every step we've carried on our weight

We know this fundamental thoughts could alternate 'cause we keep going

Let the light shine on answers (as) ocean breeze blowing harder

As I feel the sky turn inside out

My heart beats fast in demand of a life in command to destroy all the ones who impose to an order

But everything's going to be ok

Won't let you fade away

Time

We are running out of time as we endure this pain to carry on
We'll carry on

With each step we're destined to find

We will survive with all that we've gained

We will survive

Standing at the cross road

Until the end of days

Won't let you fade away

Until the end

Our dreams can never let you walk away

Until the end

Our dreams will never let you walk away

Second hand is catching up

Time

We are running out of time as we endure this pain to carry on
We'll carry on

Drowning and falling further and under

We're not alone in spite of echoes of hate that they sing in the night

Take me back in time to bring me back to life

Time

We are running out of time as we endure this pain to carry on We'll carry on

Carry on

We'll carry on
