

Tears of Arizona

Crystal Viper

Feel the breeze of the sea
See the waves carrying tears from inside
Remains in darkness dwell
After birds of death fell from the sky

Under the water, where sun doesn't shine
Silence shows stairs to the past
Black tears are floating around

Covered by the sands of time
Their memory lives within our minds
As long as thought remains, we keep them alive
No more pain and no more strife
Their spirits live within our hearts
Forevermore, in peace, they sleep side by side

Footsteps in oceans deep
Waves are dancing within, in the dark
At the bridge of gleaming white
Calm wind flutters the flag against the sky

Under the water, where sun doesn't shine
Silence shows stairs to the past
Black tears are floating around

Covered by the sands of time
Their memory lives within our minds
As long as thought remains, we keep them alive
No more pain and no more strife
Their spirits live within our hearts
Forevermore, in peace, they sleep side by side

Covered by the sands of time
Their memory lives within our minds
As long as thought remains, we keep them alive
No more pain and no more strife
Their spirits live within our hearts
Forevermore, in peace, they sleep side by side
Forevermore, in peace, they sleep side by side
Forevermore, in peace, they sleep side by side
