

Tell me you feel this
The way that I'm naked for you
Tell me the silence here, it's quieter than my head
Give me a sign, dear
Show me you know my hurt's alive
Show me you'll never underestimate my pain

And I can see the sirens casting shadows all around
And I can tell you're fading but I just can't make a sound
Underneath the streetlights we were playing distant songs
In your head
In your head
I belong...

I want this to hurt...
I want this to hurt...

I want this to hurt
I want you to tear me open
I want you to feel me underneath your fingernails
I want you to feel this
My bones as they break under your shoe
And all of the monstrous curling tendrils of your light

And I can see the sirens casting shadows all around
In your head
In your head
I belong

I want this to hurt...

Tell me you feel this
Tell me you know my hurt's alive
Say you wanna tear me open again

Oh, you still terrify me
