

Rising, Rising

Crywolf

Lift up your eyes, child
Lift up your arms, you are home
I know you're hurt, child
But you can't do this on your own

And I can see your blood flow
And I can feel your hurt now
Did you think I'd let you be alone

And I can hear your sorrow
Playing through the airwaves
I can tell your breath flows with my own

And I will find you somehow
Let me be the salt in your wounds
Clean you from the inside

All your love is gone now
I've never been a coward, my dear
But I'm afraid of what you are

Lift up your eyes, child
Lift up your arms, you are home
I know you're hurt, child
But you can't do this on your own

I'll untie you
From the strings caught in your wings
And I'll try to
Fill in the gaps, all of the cracks they left behind
