Shrike

Crywolf

I've started to feel them now, I heard them inside your room
Whispering broken sounds, singing in auto-tune
I'm falling in love with her, we made love without a sound
The silence filled the air, the spirits all around

I'm feeling the needles now, they're swimming inside my veins
My marrow is thinning out, feeling the sweetest pain
Fill me with sweet perfume, rubbing your bones on mine
We'll leave this empty room, into the air we'll climb

Oh great one, lay me down tonight
I'll have her breath till morning light
Oh great one, lay me down tonight
I'll have her, I'll have her...
Blood...
