

Skeletons (Without You)

Crywolf

Hands like a waterfall
You breathe me in so deep
I thought the end would feel much longer there for me
I'll make you see

Hands down to stop the fall
I never thought I'd see
Every time I start to talk,
The words are incomplete, but

I wanted you to know
You are the end of me
You took the last control I could feel

Hear you in my head
Taste you in these old bones
I want to feel whole
I want to feel whole

Feel you in my bed
Circling this empty room
I got no control
I got no control
