Crywolf

And I fell like lightning from the sky
I was lost
Ribbons in the void
I looked up at the blackness around me and realized
It was everything I had feared since I was a boy
Day star, son of dawn
Where is redemption?
I got on my knees that night to pray and saw you in a vision
Your face shrouded, foreboding
Brilliant and beautiful
The blackness seemed to pour in through my eyes as you walked towards me
You came close, and whispered my name
