

Pendant

Cuco

Through your eyes I want to see what's clouding up your mind
Thought about the days when you were young and now you're dying
Crawling now you're walking then you're running out of time
Forgot to reminisce but don't forget to say goodbye

Goodbye

Following your footsteps and the trail you left behind
Guide me through the craters watching out for all the mines
I can feel your heartbeat and the blood rush through your veins
Time has disappeared but all your love still feels the same

Goodbye

Take in the sun
Feel free again
'Cause life is strange
But that's okay

Fly high, my friend
I'll see you again
I'll find my way
I'll be okay
