

Right Words

Cults

Right words, but I said them at the wrong time
Even with the right words
Knowing I could never change your mind
Right words, but I said them at the wrong time
Even with the right words
Knowing I could never change your mind

I look around, it's certain now, it's been a long day
This time it's clear you seem to see things in the wrong way
If it's just for show, I'm ready to go
You're waiting to know, you're moving too slow

Said you need to work on your timeline
Everything you wanted to see
Take what you can get if it's all mine
Everything you wanted to be
Said you need to work on your timeline
Everything you wanted to see
You can just forget, it's a fine line
Everything you wanted to be

We sit around, debate the definiton of okay
And I'm getting tired of hanging 'round caught in the replay
You say it's for show, I'm letting you go
You try it alone, I hope that you don't

Said you need to work on your timeline
Everything you wanted to see
Take what you can get if it's all mine
Everything you wanted to be
Said you need to work on your timeline
Everything you wanted to see
You can just forget, it's a fine line
Everything you wanted to be
Said you need to work on your timeline
Everything you wanted to see
Take what you can get if it's all mine
Everything you wanted to be
Said you need to work on your timeline
Everything you wanted to see
You can just forget, it's a fine line
Everything you wanted to be
