Know exactly what I want, I want that Kennedy era Something that's gon' last through the summertime weather Need me a man who gon' be down with whatever I'm talkin' raining outside, give me your jacket for shelter Gon' put it 50/50, stay if the bank is empty Don't listen to these hoes 'cause I know how hoes envy Quick respond to my text, the opposite of my ex If he coming then I'm coming 'cause bitch we come as a set That's for you, but all my old niggas, they were straight acting Had five bitches, claiming they his sisters, like they the Braxtons I peaked it, this nigga spent nights out on the weekend Went from talking eachother's heads off, to now we not speaking So to the next man enter my life with a plan Please don't just just plan on being labelled my man If I ever fall I wanna fall on your hands Then when I open my eyes I wanna fall in a trance

What is it worth? Is it worth not being solo?
How much love can you give me? What's the total?
