

Andretti Notes (Interlude)

Yep, yep, yep, yep, yep, yep, yeah

Your grind must diversify if you intend to survive
Trying to get millions, it's a pandemic outside
Things have not changed in all our lives
I used to for sure make a cool million dollars off a bus ride
That ain't the case no more, we can't do shows
Gotta create new lanes to get that dough
Challenge yourself, encourage your game to grow
Competitors will recognize you as an all pro
Your predecessors will say that you have an old soul
Because you remind them of the G's they used to know
If your shit really cold, then the real gon' take note
And you'll realize everyday that you can open more and more doors
