

It Ain't Right

Current Swell

You with your chest out on the town
Your girl was pregnant but it's hard to pin a man down
That's just the problem, you up and ran
Well I thought you were the man but a man oughta stick around

I thought you were different, I thought you were cool, but it a in't right
The heart of a stone, the mask of a liar
Apart and on fire every night
Oh no, it ain't right, it ain't right
I thought you were different but it ain't right
Oh no, it ain't right, it ain't right
I thought you were different but it ain't right
Oh no It ain't...

The girl from the summer, out on her bicycle
Thought you were in love but she said it's not enough
Moving to the city, she said aloud
Well I might be waiting tables but what goes around comes aroun d
Round, round, round, round...
Round, round, round...

You went to visit, she stopped you at the door

Thought she'd be excited cause she used to always ask for more
She took you out, but were you surprised
That her friends loved to talk but they never look you in the e yes

I thought you were different, I thought you were cool, but it a in't right
The heart of a stone, the mask of a liar
Apart and on fire every night
Oh no, it ain't right, it ain't right
I thought you were different but it ain't right
Oh no, it ain't right, it ain't right
I thought you were different but it ain't right
Oh no it ain't...

It ain't right, it ain't right
I thought you were different but it ain't right
Oh no, it ain't right, it ain't right
I thought you were different but it ain't right
Oh no it ain't right
It ain't right, right, right, right, right...
