

It's All Right

Current Swell

Two times, two times too many
I'm trying to find a way to say
That we'll be fine
We'll try again when we're ready
But nothing can take, take this pain away

And it's alright, it's alright
All we can do is just keep going
And it's alright, it's alright
We'll keep on trying till you're showing
And it's alright, it's alright
One day this will be all behind us
And it's alright, it's alright
A table just for three is where they'll find us

People try to make us feel better
By saying it happens all the time
If I hear someone say that again
I'm gonna lose my fucking mind

And it's alright, it's alright
All we can do is just keep going
And it's alright, it's alright
We'll keep on trying till you're showing
And it's alright, it's alright
One day this will be all behind us
And it's alright, it's alright
A table just for three is where they'll find us

We can get through anything together
One day this will be behind us forever
Fading away in the rearview mirror
Sympathizing with the ones that have been here
Been here, been here, been been been here
Been here, been here, been been been here
Been here, been here, been been been here
Been here, been here, been been been here

It's alright, it's alright
All we can do is just keep going
It's alright, it's alright
We kept on trying, now you're showing
