

Sky to Fall

Current Swell

Out of the darkness and into the light
The sky's about to fall
All the plans that we made, all the plans that we made

We drank wine, she gave herself to me
For a while I would hold
It hurt so bad to let that love slip away
I was so smart to be so bold

Out of the darkness and into the light
The sky's about to fall
All the plans that we made, all the plans that we made

We made life, our bodies you and me
How it passed through our hands
Late at night, I'll wake from my sleep
In my bones is bitter sand

But out of the darkness and into the light
The sky's about to fall
All the plans that we made, all the plans that we made

Out of the darkness and into the light
The sky's about to fall
All the plans that we made, all the plans that we made

We can heal, our skin can soon forget
Can't say the same for our souls
An angry southern ocean took away my step
All along the cobble stone

Out of the darkness and into the light
The sky's about to fall
All the plans that we made, all the plans that we made

Out of the darkness and into the light
The sky's about to fall
All the plans that we made, all the plans that we made
All the plans that we made, all the plans that we made
