

So Unfair

Current Swell

It's hard to believe you've come and gone again
It's too much for me to face like the wind and rain
I can't help but ask myself am I wrong here when I thought you'd be my relief but you're my pain. My pain

Because It's so unfair how you look but I stare
Ya, It's so unclear how you're strong but I fear
The worst in me and the best in you

The nights never felt so alone without you
Without you, without you without you
And the days, go for days, go for days without you
Without you, without you, without you, without you you you
